Hello Sons of Ralph friends, fans, and music venue owners, managers and promoters,

Enclosed is information about The Sons of Ralph that we hope you will review and consider for your theater, club, festival or event. The Sons of Ralph are based in Asheville, NC and are committed to entertaining audiences with the rich tradition of mountain and bluegrass music along with the stories of the people behind the music.

We provide several different types of shows including:

Theater – music and discussion with the audience. Ralph and the band members perform and talk about music and life on the road from the 1970's to the present. They discuss instruments and artifacts from the early days of Bluegrass, such as the mandolin that Bill Monroe gave young Don Lewis at the Grand Ole Opry.

Stadiums and Festivals – outdoor and large venues. Ralph and the band keep large crowds engaged and entertained with great music, stories and enthusiasm. They always leave the audience wanting more!

Pubs and local venues – a high energy show with lots of music and audience interaction. The band plays cover songs, original songs, and audience requests. This show offers lots of dancing music, and the band loves to get the crowd up on their feet and moving!

Private Parties and Weddings – a more intimate performance with music tailored to the event. The band will work with event organizers and wedding planners to assure that guests enjoy music appropriate for the occasion.

As a former Bill Monroe Bluegrass Boy, Ralph Lewis enjoys sharing his unique perspective about being part of this musical tradition from its beginnings. He is one of the few musicians from this era who are still performing. Ralph has first-hand knowledge and experiences of the early days of bluegrass music, and he tells stories about touring and performing for audiences all over the world. His sons, Martin and Don, were also part of this experience, and they have performed at the Grand Ole Opry with their father and Bill Monroe.

Please contact us for more information and how our music and shows can be designed to best appeal to audiences in your area.
